

DR. STEWART PASSED AWAY FRIDAY NIGHT

Had Been Resident of City For the past 32 Years

WAS CIVIC WORKER

Worked in Many Capacities for Betterment of the City

The community was shocked Friday night when word passed that Dr. D. M. Stewart had fallen dead as the result of a stroke of apoplexy while attending a social function at Randall Hall. He had remarked to friends during the day that he was feeling much improved from his recent serious illness, but after reaching the Hall complained with a sudden pain in his head and chest.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. C. W. Foote. Dr. J. A. Hill paid a tribute to the deceased in his relation to the church, the school, the government and his family. Rev. L. N. Lipscomb spoke on his work as a physician. Dr. F. M. Wilson paid tribute to his co-laborer of 32 years in the medical profession.

Active pall bearers were W. C. Black, C. H. Jarrett, G. G. Foster, C. R. Burrow, Guy Harp and J. D. Gamble. Honorary pall bearers were members of the medical fraternity in Canyon and Amarillo, officials of the Methodist Church, and members of the Canyon Rotary Club.

Dr. Daniel McIntire Stewart was born in Tennessee on Sept. 8, 1868. He was educated at Denton, Kansas City and Tulane. He was married in 1897 to Miss Katie Gertrude Mills, to which union five children were born. Dr. Paul E. Stewart of Stratford, Mrs. Ruth Lindley of Tulsa, Mrs. Rose Cummings of Floydada, Mrs. Marion Bishir and Miss Dannie Mac Stewart of Canyon. Mrs. Stewart died in 1919. Dr. Stewart and Mrs. Elizabeth Chandler were married on Thanksgiving Day, 1931. In addition to his wife and five children, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Thos. O'Dell of Lindaie, Mrs. C. M. Jacobsen of Lewisville, Mrs. A. D. Miller of Denton, and one brother, H. T. Stewart of Denton. Only the latter was able to attend the funeral services.

Dr. Stewart has been a practicing physician in Canyon for 32 years. During his residence here, he has taken a very active part in the affairs of the community. He has been the County Health officer for a number of years; was a member of the school board; a member of the city council; president of the Randall County Red Cross Chapter; a member of the selective draft board during the war, and was a director in several of the Liberty Loan drives; a member of the Canyon Rotary club; a member of the Masonic Lodge, a Shriner and Knight Templar; as a member of the Methodist church, he was a member of the board of trustees and board of stewards; he was local Santa Fe physician.

Dr. Stewart had planned to attend a meeting of the railroad's physicians at Topeka, Kansas, yesterday.

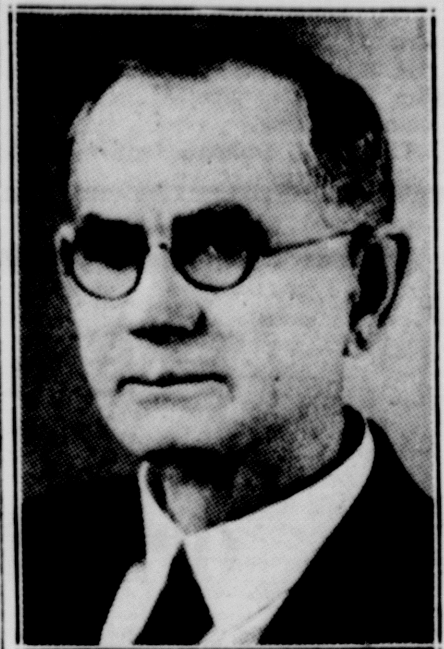

Highway Work to South Completed But No Topping

Work has been completed under the present contract on the highway south from Canyon to Happy, and the contractors have moved their outfit. The contract called for a caliche base. No contract has been let for an asphalt topping but it is understood that plans and specifications have been ready for several months. It was anticipated that such a contract would be let before spring.

The result of the Ferguson suit against the State Highway Commission will affect this road if Jim Ferguson is successful. Material damage will result to the base if the topping is not completed during the coming year, as the caliche will blow badly without the topping.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Landers and family, and Bartow Anders and family of McLean spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Landers.

Pioneer Doctor Dead

DR. D. M. STEWART

A physician in Canyon for 32 years, a civic leader and an ardent church worker, a most highly honored and respected citizen was lost to the community in the death of Dr. D. M. Stewart last Friday night.

Rotary Club Holds Memorial Services For Dr. Stewart

Honoring Dr. D. M. Stewart, memorial services were held Tuesday by the Canyon Rotary Club of which he was a member. Vice President S. L. Ingham presided in the absence of Oscar Gano. Floyd Savage was in charge of the service, which was as follows:

Quartet—Mrs. L. F. Sheffy, Mrs. C. H. Jarrett, Floyd Savage, Clyde Warwick.

"Dr. Stewart, My Family Physician," Bob Jarrett.

"Dr. Stewart, a Civic Leader," Clyde Warwick.

Quartet.

"Dr. Stewart, My Co-Laborer," Dr. S. L. Ingham.

"Incidents in the life of Dr. Stewart," Doug Shirley and T. C. Thompson.

Taps.

Visitors present Tuesday were Leroy White, John McKnight and H. C. Noble of Amarillo.

Cow Williams Is Named Buffalo Captain for '33

Howard "Cow" Williams of Canyon was elected captain of the 1933 Buffalo football team at a banquet of the Buffalo team last night at the College Cafeteria. He succeeds Bill McLendon of Clovis, who played his fourth year on the squad. Two other members of this year's team played their last season, Prentice Ballengee and Otis Burk.

The banquet was attended by 28 Varsity players, 24 Freshmen, Coaches Burton, Crump and Jones, members of the athletic committee and a few invited guests.

The banquet was presided over by D. A. Shirley, chairman of the athletic committee.

Coach Mitchell Jones introduced the Freshman squad, which he praised very highly for this year's work.

Davis Hill of Amarillo introduced co-captains Selby Kirby and Woodrow Dunaway of the Sandie team, which is making such a great record this year.

Short talks were made by Clyde Warwick, Dean R. P. Jarrett, Ray Campbell, Coach Burton, Bill McLendon, Cow Williams, and Dr. J. A. Hill.

Coach Burton called attention to the fact that this year was the first time since 1923 that a Buffalo team had defeated an Abilene team in Abilene. Fewer points were scored against the team this year than in any recent year—39 in 8 games, and only one touchdown in a conference game—while the Buffs scored 141 points. He praised McLendon and Williams, and Phillips, who had developed into one of the best punters in the conference. He stated that this was the best behaved team he had ever coached, and that the team had been complimented for their action on and off the field. He believed the prospects for the coming year were brighter, and that a harder schedule would be faced.

Dean Jarrett and Dr. Hill praised the standing of the men on the squad, and the high scholastic standing of the group.

Chamber Commerce Starts Year's Work

About 90 Citizens Will Attend Banquet Held Tonight

Directors Organize For Work of The Coming Year

Approximately 90 tickets have been sold for the annual dinner of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce which will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the First Christian Church. W. A. Warren, Levi Cole, and J. B. Elliston are in charge of the general arrangements and the ticket sale. Great interest has been shown in the coming event, and the attendance is expected to be one of the largest that has ever been drawn to a Chamber of Commerce dinner.

The program following the dinner will consist of a sing-song led by Wallace R. Clark. Reports on the last year's work by Fred E. Wortham and Levi Cole. Discussion led by T. C. Thompson. Dr. J. A. Hill and Clyde W. Warwick.

Dairymen Hold Election Officers on Tuesday Night

The Randall County Dairymen's Association met Tuesday night at the Court house for the annual election of officers and other business. There were several matters of interest to the dairy farmers discussed. Among which was the matter of the annual test of cattle for tuberculosis. The same committee that handled this matter last year was appointed to look after it again this year. The T. B. Testing will be done in the latter part of February. Arrangements will be made for all who wish to test at that time to secure certain advantages in arranging for the testing. Information regarding the test may be had at the County Agent's office any time after January 1st.

The following officers were elected to serve for the year 1933: J. W. McCrery, president. J. P. Upchurch, vice president. E. Gidden, secretary.

These men together with six additional directors to be appointed by the president will look after the interests of the Association for the coming year.

The next regular meeting will be held January 3rd at the court house, at which time the directors for the coming year will be announced.

E. E. Scruggs, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Tel. Co. of Amarillo, was a business caller in the city Tuesday.

Miss Anna I. Hibbets transacted business in Amarillo Wednesday afternoon.

Chamber of Commerce directors met Friday night in the monthly meeting and for organization for the coming year.

The resignation of Dr. Harris M. Cook was received, and Dr. Albert Barnett was elected in his place as a member of the Board of Directors.

Plans for the annual banquet to be held tonight were turned over to Clyde W. Warwick, president, and Fred E. Wortham, secretary.

Fred E. Wortham was elected to continue as secretary at the salary of $100 per month. T. C. Thompson, retiring president, highly praised the work of Mr. Wortham during the past year and complimented the directors for the interest which had been shown in the organization.

Mr. Thompson urged that steps be taken to foster greater interest in the rural communities of the county during the coming year. Trading at home was another question vital to the commercial interests of the community, stated Mr. Thompson, and urged business men to set the example for the community.

A trades day or down-town night will be planned before Christmas, announcements of which will be made later.

Down Town Night Will Be Observed Monday, Dec. 19

The Chamber of Commerce has set Monday, December 19th for Down-Town Night in Canyon. At this time all of the stores will remain open, inviting the citizens of Canyon to participate in the special bargains which will be offered for this occasion. Prizes will be awarded in various business houses.

This occasion was observed last year, and hundreds of people visited the stores, taking advantage of this shopping period to do their Christmas buying.

The Trade Extension Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is composed of W. A. Warren, Dick Bellah, J. M. Veteck, Ray Campbell and Allen Farlow.

HAD OPERATION

Miss Alma Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Smith, underwent an operation for appendicitis in an Amarillo hospital Friday. She is recovering very nicely.

"THIS INSTITUTION NOT TO BE MADE INTO A JUNIOR COLLEGE"

A good many people these days are offering remedies for the fix we are in. Most of them start on the assumption that everything is wrong. With this as a starting point, such reformers want either to abolish existing institutions or reorganize them. They forget that whatever we enjoy today that is worth while has been developed under and with and through these same institutions, and their builders. As a rule, these reformers, though well-meaning, are not well informed. Moreover, they are not thinking deeply about our problems. They are scared, or they are selfish, or they are superficial, or are limited in understanding and vision.

Education is being victimized by this situation. Of course, it is generally recognized that some retrenchment in expenditures is inevitable. Teachers and friends of education generally are aware of the situation we face. Few teachers are unwilling to share justly with the public any necessary and righteous reductions in school expenses. But when would-be reformers offer bad suggestions, we refuse to follow.

A case in point is the recent newspaper report of the recommendations of the Legislative Committee on Economy and Efficiency. This committee, which was created by the last legislature and which has been in session most of the time since last spring, is composed of two senators and three representatives, and has Hon. Harry Graves, of Georgetown, as chairman. Its purpose is to reorganize state government, including public education, and especially higher education. As I understand it, the committee early in the year employed a Chicago firm of some renown, as experts in the field under investigation. This firm lays no claim, I am told, to expert knowledge of education and its problems. Accordingly, it employed a professor of education in a small female college in New York. This professor visited the various state schools in Texas last summer and gathered considerable data. Some years ago he wrote a book on school sanitation or something of the kind and he is said to be an expert on how to keep up a college plant and keep it clean. Presumably the committee has followed somewhat the recommendations of its sanitation expert from New York, for when he was here it was plain enough that his mind was already made up to the effect that a Teachers College, and particularly this one, is a sorry sort of institution. This attitude was probably due to his training and experience.

The committee's recommendations, as represented to the newspapers, is too preposterous to contemplate. The Teachers Colleges of this state are the common peoples' institutions of higher learning. The common people know too well the value of these colleges to allow them to be emasculated in any such way. The truth of the matter is, these colleges have done so well that their very success threatens them. They are offering and rendering a service to the state and nation that is so valuable that their place in the public eye is too conspicuous to suit certain people. They are attracting patronage some of which might go elsewhere if equivalent service were elsewhere available at the same price. Selfish interests are taking advantage of the public psychology on taxation to advocate the destruction of that group of public institutions that is actually the most valuable to the masses of the people. Economy is really not the motive with those who inspire and proclaim the recommendations of the committee. I am not incriminating the motive of the committee; only that of those behind the scenes.

In the meantime, let students, ex-students, and friends of the institution keep cool and trust to the final triumph of sanity, good judgment, and true patriotism. (The college has not yet been destroyed, or permanently impaired, or reduced to a junior institution.)

FIRE AT ROFFEY PLACE IS QUICKLY CHECKED

Fire was discovered in the roof of the H. C. Roffey home Saturday morning at 11:45 o'clock. Sparks from the chimney were responsible for the blaze which was quickly checked by the fire department. Little damage was done to the house, water damage being the principle damage to the contents.

Geo. Cox returned Sunday from a business trip to his ranch in New Mexico.

SUGGESTION IS MADE FOR RANK OF ONLY JUNIOR

Committee Report to be Made to Legislature in January

FIGHT TO BE MADE

Local Citizens to Protest Reduction of Rank of W. T.

To either deed the West Texas State Teachers College to the local community, or to make of it a junior college and branch of the University of Texas, will be the recommendation of the Economy and Efficiency Committee to the 43rd Legislature which convenes in January. This committee was appointed by the 42nd legislature to make recommendations as to the consolidation possible in the departments of the state government.

The committee recommends the same action with all of the teachers colleges in the state except Denton and Huntsville, together with the College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville. The report would abolish the College of Industrial Arts at Denton and the teachers College at San Marcos, and would move all of the technological work from Texas Tech at Lubbock to A. & M. Graduate work would be limited to the University and no institution except the University would hold summer schools.

The full report of the committee is now being printed, and will be ready for distribution within a few days.

Educational leaders of the state were amazed in reading the report, which would entirely disrupt the educational system of the state, and would reduce to junior college standing all of the institutions of the state except five.

Concern was expressed locally as to the fate of W. T. President J. A. Hill issued a statement, which is printed in another place in the News.

Ex-students of W. T. have started active work to combat the recommendations.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce has set as its most important objective the maintenance of a four-year standard degree college at W. T., and has announced that hearty co-operation will be extended to such organizations in all of the college towns affected by this proposal.

Faculty members of the College report that letters are already coming from prospective students asking whether or not this radical change has become effective, and what result it will have on their standing.

Citizens of Canyon are advised that these recommendations are only that of a committee established to make a study of the state government. The recommendations are to be considered by the legislature, which meets in January. Whatever changes are made in the educational system must be approved by both the House of Representatives and the Senate, and then approved by the Governor. No changes can possibly be made until the end of this school year, even should any of the proposed ones be approved by the legislature and the governor.

Conferences will be held locally and in various cities of the Plains during the coming month for the purpose of organizing for a determined fight against the changes recommended by the committee. The first meeting will be held in Canyon Saturday when Senators and Representatives from this section have been invited to the College to look over the plant, and to investigate the needs of the institution.

The following statement was made Monday by Clyde W. Warwick, retiring Representative of the 123rd district, regarding the situation:

"I will tell you bluntly" he said, "what is likely to happen: the recommendation will be carried thru if the towns where these institutions are located don't make a fight to retain them. The brunt of the defense must be born by the towns themselves and the educational leaders of the state."

"Everyone is crying for reduction."

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The News man was selected as president of the Chamber of Commerce last week without his knowledge or consent. It is not the first time that this burden has been shifted to our shoulders, as we have been closely associated with the Chamber of Commerce work for more than 22 years.

Perhaps there are those in Canyon who believe that the Chamber of Commerce should be disbanded through these times. The majority realize that this would be a most foolish step, and one that would cause permanent injury to this community. How many are there in Canyon who believe that everything is on the rocks, and will never recover? Very few. Most of us are of the opinion that this depression will be over in a few months, and when it ends, brighter times will again return. For that reason the commercial interests of the community should be guarded.

An example of what a Chamber of Commerce may mean to a community was seen in a neighboring town, when after three banks had failed, renewed efforts were made by business men to increase the activities of their Chamber of Commerce. They did not quit in the face of danger. They fought all the harder, and as a result, conditions are improving.

Very frankly, we say that Canyon has a fight on its hands. There are economists at work in Texas who would wreck the educational system, including W. T., for the sake of a few tax dollars. What this would mean to Canyon, every citizen knows. If the citizens of Canyon sit idly by the thing will be done. The only organization now equipped to handle this work is the Chamber of Commerce. It cannot do this service to the community on the few dollars which have been collected in dues during the past year. If any sort of a fight is to be made, every business firm, and every progressive citizen must get behind the Chamber of Commerce the coming year, give of his time and his money that this fight be carried to a successful conclusion.

The officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce are only the representatives of the people of this community. It is not their worry to furnish all of the time or all of the money necessary to continue the organization. They will shoulder the worry necessary for the organization's success, and this will be plenty during the coming year. The future of the organization is clearly up to the citizens of Canyon. If they wish the organization to succeed, it must be the part of each and every one to make a contribution to carry on the work.

THE EDUCATIONAL RECOMMENDATIONS.

Word from Austin states that the Economy and Efficiency Committee will recommend that five teachers colleges, including W. T., shall be either deeded to the local communities for operation as junior colleges, or that they be made branches of the University of Texas and operated as state junior colleges.

The News stated several weeks ago that violence is likely to be done in the next session of the legislature to the educational system of Texas under the guise of economy, on account of the election of a membership that is almost 100 percent uninterested in the educational system of the state.

The entire report of the committee must be read before mature judgment may be taken on the recommendations. It is going to deal with all phases of the state government, and radical recommendations will be made in all departments.

Perhaps the friends of education have been taking things for granted. They have felt secure that the institutions which were in existence were perfectly safe. Perhaps the institutions themselves are somewhat to blame for allowing inefficiency to creep into the management and organization. Be that as it may, recommendations are going to be made to the coming session of the legislature which must be combatted. The town which sits idly by and allows the institution within its border to be wrecked will have no one to blame but itself for this lethargy. Action must be taken.

The state has no right to support any department or institution which is not returning value to the state and to the citizens of the state, therefore, the burden of proof for its existence rests upon the individual departments and institutions. The legislature will probably assume an attitude of interest in those projects of the state which are of value to the state, and give a deaf ear to those which have not proven their worth. Therefore, it is up to the friends of the West Texas State Teachers College to amass facts and figures as to the worth of this institution as a senior college, and to defend its record as a college, and its possibilities for service to the people of this section, and to the people of the state.

The Texas Realtors in session last week urged the adoption of the sales tax in Texas for the purpose of abolishing entirely the ad valorem tax. Several states are considering the same move. An income tax at this time would bring in no cash. The sales tax is the most equitable tax that has been proposed, as the buyer pays on what he buys. The wealthy man usually buys expensive goods, while the poor man buys cheap goods. The burden is thus distributed in accordance with the ability to pay, and is collected in such a manner that all are able to pay. A lot of special taxes are a nuisance, and causes business men untold trouble. A general sales tax would be able to relieve real estate of much of the unjust burden which has been heaped upon it.

Several years ago it seemed like an idle dream to think of a six hour working day, and only five days a week. Such a job now is considered a good job. However, the labor unions were considering at that time that the same amount of money would be received for the shorter day and shorter week that was paid for eight hours, six days. The short week is being quite generally adopted, and will prove to be very popular and beneficial.

Political writers believe that the Republicans will attempt to force a special session of congress with a view of embarrassing the new Democratic administration. They know that legislation will not greatly improve conditions, and prosperity may never be assured through legislative measures. The Republicans would take great delight in making the Democratic road as rocky as possible.

STRENGTH, ASSURANCE, CALM

By Bruce Barton.

More than once in his journeys Jesus had passed the victims of the justice of that day, writhing, tortured beings nailed to crosses and waiting piteously for release. Sometimes they waited for days before the end. The memory of such sights must have been constantly with him; at every sunset he was conscious that he had walked just one day nearer to his own ordeal. Yet Jesus never faltered. Calmly, cheerfully he went forward, cheering the spirits of his disciples, and striking those fiery blows against hypocrisy and oppression which were to be echoed by the hammer blows upon his cross. And when the soldiers came to arrest him, they found him ready and still calm.

The week of his trial and crucifixion takes up a large portion of the gospels. For that week alone we can follow him almost hour by hour; we know where he ate and slept, what he said and to whom;—we can trace the gathering storm of fury which finally bore him down. And this is the magnificent thing to remember—that through all that long torture of imprisonment, court trials, midnight hearings, scourgings, loss of food and loss of sleep, Jesus never once ceased to be the master.

His accusers were determined. They thronged the courtyard before the palace, clamoring for his blood, yet even they felt a momentary awe when he appeared before them on the balcony.

Even Pilate felt it. The two men offered a strange contrast, standing there—the Roman governor whose lips were so soon to speak the sentence of death, and the silent, self-possessed ex-carpenter—accused and doomed—yet bearing himself with so much majesty, as though he were somehow beyond the reach of man-made law, and safe from hurt of its penalties.

In the face of the Roman were deep unpleasant lines; his cheeks were fatty with self-indulgence; he had the colorless look of indoor living. The straight young man stood inches above him, bronzed and hard, and clean as the air of his loved mountain and lake.

Pilate raised his hand; the shouting and the tumult died; a deathly stillness descended upon the crowd. He turned and faced the figure at his side, and from his coarse lips burst a sentence which is a truer portrait than any painter has ever given us. The involuntary testimony of the flabby cynical Roman in the presence of perfect strength, perfect assurance, perfect calm:

"Behold," he cried, "the man!"

It takes two to start a fight or a family and sometimes there isn't any difference.

Since You Can't Keep a Good Man Down, or a Fish Out of Water, "Uncle Robbie" Turns Up Again, Bossing the Atlanta Baseball Club

BY PHILIP MARTIN

"YOU can't keep a good man down—especially a good fat man," jovial Wilbert Robinson used to say. And apparently "Uncle Robbie" was the same fat guy he used to talk about—for the chuckling, roly-poly Robbie, who left his perennial charges, the Brooklyn Dodgers, at the end of the 1931 season, has bobbed up as president of the Atlanta club in the Southern League.

Good old Robbie! At 66, after one of the most pleasant and colorful careers in baseball, he finds himself again paired up with Col. T. L. Huston, his pal and former part owner of the New York Yankees, and it looks as if the combination is going to do the club a lot of good.

The beloved man of Flatbush was, in his day, one of the greatest catchers that ever donned a mask. He broke into baseball at the age of 18 at Hudson, Mass. After a year there he bounced up with the Philadelphia Athletics and from there went to Baltimore, where he helped to form one of the greatest of baseball's quartets—Robinson, Hughie Jennings, Joe Kelley and John McGraw.

In 1911 he went to assist McGraw as coach of the Giants. In 1914 he took over the leadership of the Brooklyn "Wonder Boys," and became a fixture there until he retired in 1931. During his time he won two National League pennants for the Dodgers.

ROBBIE is a prince of "regular fellers." His face lined from countless laughs, and his round tummy made that way, no doubt, by his serene outlook on life, he has made countless friends in the sports world. His players swore by him (and good-naturedly at him when his numerous resounding smacks on the back brought red welts).

Wilbert (Uncle Robbie) Robinson, former manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is a "big man from the north" to a lot of Georgia ball fans. The lure of the diamond proved too strong for him after leaving the Dodgers in 1931, and so he pops into the limelight again as president of the Atlanta club in the Southern League.

He is a fun-loving soul, and dotes on stories. Following is one he likes to tell:

Robbie buddied around with Bob Fitzsimmons in the old days. One day the two entered a saloon and Fitz introduced Robbie as Jake Killrain. Fitz wanted to have some fun, so he told Robbie to let a haymaker go at him and he would fall to the floor in a fake knockout.

Fitz started a quarrel and Robbie let the fake punch go. Fitz fell—and then a pal of the fighter, incensed at the way things turned out, laid Robbie low with a nice one on the button.

A NOTHER of Robinson's pet ones concerns a tale of how he lost the end of a finger. It occurred, according to the tale, in a fight after a game Robbie played with the old Baltimore Orioles in Philadelphia.

"I was under the heap like a full-back in a football game," Robbie chuckles. "I felt a finger reaching into my eye, and it looked as though that finger was about to lift the eye right out of the socket."

"I was pinned so tight that I couldn't move my hands, so in self-defense and not wishing to become a 'One-Eye Connolly,' I reached up and bit off the top of the finger. I did not find out until half an hour later that the finger belonged to one of my hands."

One of the most brilliant stars to ever grace the pitching mound of a ball diamond was developed by Robbie. He is Dazzy Vance, that speed-ball artist who still pitches for Brooklyn.

HEALTH
OPEN WINDOW

Oxygen is necessary to breathing. Oxygen is taken from the air by a gas flame just the same as by any other kind of flame. Fresh air supplies oxygen.

So, for your health's sake, let a little fresh air in.

If you must have a fire to dress by, have it in another room. If you live in a small apartment and sleep in your living room, turn out the fire and raise the windows when you go to bed.

Water Heaters Without Flue
Pipes Are A Menace

Many gas appliances, including some well-constructed room heaters, are safe to use without flue connection in WELL-VENTILATED rooms. However, it is advisable that all appliances using gas in considerable quantities should be connected with flues, for even the most efficient types may produce poisonous gas when the flame is first lighted.

If your water heater—or any other kind of a heater—is in the bath room, turn it out when you are ready for your bath. It requires approximately 10 cubic feet of air to supply sufficient oxygen to burn one cubic foot of gas—and there usually is little or no fresh air coming into the average bathroom.

Natural gas, when properly used, not only is efficient and economical, but it also is safe.

West Texas Gas Company places a higher value on the health, safety and good will of consumers than upon any revenue it might derive from gas that is not properly used.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO HELP DISABLED

Every disabled World War veteran who is forced to spend Christmas in the hospital will receive a Christmas gift from the American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. H. O. Price, chairman of the rehabilitation committee of Palo Duro unit of the Auxiliary. Preparations are now being made by Auxiliary women in every part of the country to supply Christmas gifts for the disabled men in the veterans' hospitals in their states.

Last year Christmas gifts went from the Auxiliary of Texas to more than 2,000 disabled veterans in Government hospitals located at El Paso, San Antonio, Kerrville, and Carlsbad, Texas. This year the number of gifts distributed is expected to be even larger, Mrs. Price said. The Palo Duro unit will co-operate with the Texas Department of the Auxiliary in supplying gifts for the veterans hospitalized in this state.

This year the Auxiliary's Christmas gift program will be expanded to include the families of the veterans at home. The local Auxiliary units will contact the homes of all hospitalized veterans in their communities, making sure each home has adequate Christmas dinner and presents for the children. The local unit will conduct this work in this community.

METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS TUESDAY

The Methodist Missionary Society met Tuesday afternoon, December 6th at three o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. McGee.

The meeting opened by singing "Joy to the World." Mrs. R. E. Foster had charge of the worship service. She chose as her theme, "Jesus, the Light of the World," with devotional parts given as follows: "An Adolescent"—Mrs. Marion Witt; "A Young Man"—Mrs. I. C. Jenkins; "A Young Woman"—Mrs. S. B. Louder.

Following was a prayer by Mrs. Witt, and a closing song, "Silent Night."

After the business meeting and social hour, refreshments were served by the hostess. Twenty women were present for the program.

MRS. WARWICK IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

Mrs. Clyde Warwick entertained the members of the 1930 Club at her home, 1110 Sixth Avenue, with four tables of bridge Friday afternoon.

Following the games the guests were served refreshments in the dining room. The table was attractively centered with a bowl of frosted fruits and lighted by candles.

Club members and special guests included: Mrs. John S. Humphreys, Mrs. D. A. Shirley, Mrs. Joe Gamble, Mrs. J. M. Redfearn, Mrs. C. R. Burrows, Mrs. S. L. Ingram, Mrs. W. R. Clark, Mrs. C. H. Jarrett, Mrs. R. P. Jarrett, and Mrs. C. C. Small and Mrs. A. B. Martin of Amarillo.

O. E. S. ENTERTAINERS GRAND OFFICERS

The local chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star were hosts Thursday evening to three grand officers, Mrs. Lorena Brittain of Amarillo, deputy grand matron, and Messrs. F. S. Pelton and H. A. Dyer, both of Amarillo, grand officers of the grand lodge.

Initiation services were held for Mrs. Dorothy Ferrell and at the conclusion of the business meeting, refreshments were served to 15 guests and 22 members.

BLUE BONNETS PLAN CHRISTMAS AFFAIRS

Mrs. W. H. Upchurch of 1111 Seventh Avenue entertained members of the Bluebonnet club at her home Thursday afternoon.

During the business meeting names were exchanged for the annual Christmas gift party which is a feature of the club program. Plans were made for a Christmas party to be given December 15th at the home of Mrs. Levi Cole.

Mrs. W. L. Smith and Mrs. Aubrey Fox were welcomed into the club as new members. At the refreshment hour a tasty dessert course was served.

Those present included: Mrs. Guy Cole, Mrs. N. T. Dickerson, Mrs. Geo. Small, Mrs. A. C. Ball, Mrs. T. W. Ziegler, Mrs. Alec Love, Mrs. Aubrey Fox, Mrs. W. L. Smith, Mrs. Susan Key, Mrs. Levi Cole and the hostess.

MRS. KNIGHTON ENTERTAINS CIRCLE

Members of the Third Circle of the W. M. S. met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. T. H. Knighton as hostess.

Devotional was read by Mrs. Knighton and the lesson was conducted by Mrs. T. S. Furlow.

A delicious refreshment course was served to seven members. The circle meets next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Carl Laughery.

FIRST AID CLASS POSTPONES MEET TONIGHT

Dr. R. A. Neblett announces that the First-Aid Class will postpone their regular Thursday evening meeting until Thursday of next week. The change is made because of the Chamber of Commerce banquet which is scheduled for this evening and would conflict with the meeting of the class.

MRS. A. M. SMITH IS HOSTESS

In entertainment of the members of the Worthwhile Club, Mrs. A. M. Smith was hostess at a delightful affair at her home Thursday afternoon.

The time was pleasantly spent in conversation and in doing needlework. A tasty refreshment course was served at the tea hour.

BAPTIST CHURCH

As announced by Rev. J. R. Hicks, pastor of the First Baptist Church, a large congregation is expected Friday evening to hear Rev. Gregory, a returned missionary who for some months was a captive of the natives of Old Mexico and now an active minister in Texas. His subject for the evening will be on missions, a needed emphasis in Southern Baptist work. Services will begin promptly at eight o'clock and the general public is invited to hear this missionary message by one who has served as a Missionary. Baptists are urged to be present and bring their friends.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Bishop E. C. Seaman, of Amarillo, will visit Canyon next Sunday, December 11th, and will preach at the local church, at 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

His subject will be: "The Christian Ministry and the Problems of Life," in which he will present, in a practical way, some of our current problems.

All of the Bishop's friends among the student body, faculty members and citizens of Canyon, are cordially invited to be present at the service, and to meet him afterwards at the Little House of Fellowship.

THE VALUE OF IMMUNIZATION AGAINST DIPHTHERIA

Diphtheria is a dangerous and contagious disease of the throat and nose. It is caused by germs. These germs make sore spots and develop a poison which may weaken the heart. Besides serious heart trouble, diphtheria may leave the victim paralyzed. Diphtheria causes the death of many children, especially those under 7 years of age.

In 1928 in the state of Texas there were more than nine deaths each day in babies under two years of age, who died from diphtheria or dysentery. How many of these are from your county? Death registration is not complete and when all deaths are made a public record this number will be increased to a more alarming figure. Dr. Anderson, State Health Officer, said.

Diphtheria can be prevented. Do not let your child get diphtheria. Toxin-antitoxin or toxoid is used to give long time protection against diphtheria.

Toxin-antitoxin or toxoid does not give immediate protection. It takes from four to six months before protection is fully developed. The toxin-antitoxin treatments consist of three doses, the does being given one week apart; the toxoid treatments consist of three doses, the doses being given three weeks apart. Approximately 80 per cent of the children given this course of treatment are rendered immune within six months, the remaining 20 per cent will need a second series of treatments.

The Schick test is a scientific means of determining whether or not protection against diphtheria exist. It does not itself give any protection whatsoever. It should be given all children six months after the toxin-antitoxin or toxoid has been given. This particularly important because approximately 20 per cent will need a second series of treatments before protection is obtained and the Schick test is the only means of determining which these children are.

Toxin-antitoxin and toxoid should not be confused with antitoxin. Antitoxin is used for the cure of a case of diphtheria and for the protection of persons who have been definitely exposed to the disease. It gives only temporary protection for two or three weeks or the best a month; it is no good thereafter.

An attack of diphtheria does not insure against a second attack.

Simply because you have had diphtheria is no assurance that you will not have it again. Many people have diphtheria more than once.

Toxin-antitoxin and toxoid should be given to all children between six months and ten years of age, and six months later a Schick test should be made.

This is an appeal to you as parents help give your child his right to health and happiness. Add to your peace of mind as a parent by taking your child to your family physician. You can never tell when diphtheria may break out in your town or community. Toxin-antitoxin and toxoid prevents diphtheria. It's simple—it's safe—it's sure.

WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB HAS MEETING

The largest attendance record attained by the ladies of the West Side Home Demonstration Club was the unusual report of the meeting with Mrs. Joe Tuck on Wednesday, Nov. 23. Mrs. J. L. Buchanan and Mrs. Maddux were welcomed as new members.

Mrs. A. N. Burgan presided over the regular business meeting. The election of officers consumed the greater part of the afternoon, after which Miss Coily Burrus gave a report on the meeting of the reporters of the clubs in Hereford. The following officers were re-elected: President, Mrs. A. N. Burgan; vice president, Mrs. J. J. Wright; secretary, Miss Coily Burrus; reporter, Mrs. L. A. Donnell; parliamentarian, Mrs. Maddux.

Mrs. Maddux was elected to fill the place of Mrs. B. A. Burrus, resigned, and will give a parliamentary drill at the meeting in December.

On Wednesday, Dec. 7, four of the demonstration clubs of the west side of the county will meet for an all day session with Mrs. A. N. Burgan. Miss Bass will be present and will demonstrate making rugs. Visitors are always welcome and any who are interested may come and learn of this work.

MRS. A. P. TURK GIVES PROGRAM

Mrs. Alta Potts Turk, head of the Music Department of the Amarillo College, presented a program in the College auditorium at the chapel hour Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Turk sang several selections, the songs divided into two groups, the first of which was a selection of original numbers by Miss Pauline Brigham of the College faculty with Miss Brigham at the piano. Miss Rosalie Coffee of Amarillo, a graduate of W. T. accompanied Mrs. Turk in her second group of songs.

A boys' quartet from the Amarillo College gave several numbers under the direction of Mrs. Turk. David Ayres Park, formerly of Canyon, is a member of the quartet.

A. A. U. W. MEETS MONDAY EVENING

The local branch of the A. A. U. W. met Monday evening at the home of Miss Mary E. Hudspeth, 1905 Fourth Avenue, with Miss Millie Hill, Miss Angie Debo, and Miss Mary M. Richardson as hostesses.

Three study groups, one on Current Literature, a writers' group, and a group on International Relations Through the Modern Drama, were conducted.

During a short business session a committee was appointed to formulate plans in regard to the problem now confronting higher education in Texas.

Delicious refreshments were served.

REBEKAHS ELECT OFFICERS TUESDAY

At the regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge Tuesday evening officers for the incoming year were elected. Mrs. Margaret Cole was named Noble Grand, Mrs. Mildred Sullivan, vice grand; Miss Mae Warren, secretary; Mrs. Nannie Myers, treasurer; Mrs. Winnie Louder, lodge deputy; Miss Olive Schramm, delegate to the Rebekah Assembly which meets at Greenville in March. Mrs. Minnie Hendrix was chosen alternate representative.

Those present included Mesdames Hendrix, Cole, Louder, Taylor, Myers, Stratton, Bengie, Brown, Gibbs, and Miss Warren.

Miss Rosa Cash returned to Plainview with her sister, Mrs. O. J. Lass to visit after the holidays.

J. W. Shanklin was a business caller in New Mexico a few days this week.

FEDERATION TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The City Federation of Women's Clubs will meet next Wednesday at 2:00 o'clock in the Federated Club Rooms. Mrs. Daugherty, president urges that all clubs have their full quota of delegates present for the meeting.

Mrs. Reeves Back From Trip; Spoke County Institutes

Mrs. T. V. Reeves, head of the bureau of public service, returned Sunday from a trip to Memphis and Childers of several days extension.

Going to Childers Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Reeves addressed the Hardeman-Childers county institute Friday. She spoke to a meeting of the Hall county teachers the following day at Memphis.

Teachers Cheerful
Mrs. Reeves, upon her return, spoke in praise of the teachers of both locations. Although only receiving half their pay in negotiable money, their morale and spirit is of the most commendable nature, she said. "They are extremely optimistic in the face of discouraging factors in the teaching profession," she concluded.

While in Childers Mrs. Reeves investigated the possibility of an extension class in Education and states that it is probable that it will be organized for the winter term. Dr. Albert Barnett is expected to conduct the class if it materializes.

Batchelder Praised
Memphis members of C. W. Batchelder's extension class in public speaking were highly elated with the results obtained therefrom. It is possible that an additional extension course will be arranged for that point.

VESPER SERVICES TO BE GIVEN DEC. 18

There will be a Vesper Service in the College auditorium Sunday afternoon, December 18, at 4 o'clock. This will be a real nativity service with the songs sung by the College Madrigal Club conducted by Professor W. R. Clark.

The people of all the churches of the town are invited to attend and students and citizens are invited to bring their out-of-town friends.

Prohibition Will Be Discussed at Methodist Church

Rev. Henry Van Valkenberg, formerly pastor of the First Methodist Church at El Paso, widely known over several states as an able speaker and preacher, will speak at the First Methodist Church on Sunday, December 11, at 8:00 p. m. He holds a Ph. D. degree and he is a member of the National Social Service Honor Society of the Pi Gamma Mu. He has specialized in the study of the Prohibition question and he speaks with clear understanding and conviction but with fairness to those who disagree with him.

Rev. Van Valkenberg is under appointment of the church as superintendent of the West Texas District of the Anti-Saloon league. The public is cordially invited to attend this service and the church membership of the community is especially urged to cooperate.

Edwin McReynolds and family, and E. R. Archambeau and family of Amarillo spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. J. L. McReynolds.

O. W. Gano left Sunday for Waco where he attended Grand Chapter and Grand Lodge of the Masonic order. He will visit with his brother and sister in Dallas before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dysart of Plainview, Judge and Mrs. A. B. Martin of Amarillo, and Senator and Mrs. Clint Small of Amarillo were week-end visitors in the Warwick home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Park of Amarillo were visitors in the city Thursday.

Jarrett Attends School Meet At New Orleans La.

Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Dean of W. T. S. T. C., returned last Sunday evening from New Orleans, La., where he attended, as a representative, of this institution, the Thirty-Seventh Annual meeting of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States. The meeting was in session last Thursday and Friday.

The Southern Association is the accrediting agency for colleges and secondary schools of the south; and has among its many affiliated institutions, W. T. S. T. C. Joseph Roemer of George Peabody College is president of the association. Outstanding on the program at New Orleans were addresses made by President A. B. Dinwiddie of Tulane University, President Francis P. Gaines of Washington and Lee University, and F. L. McVey of the University of Kentucky.

As with all meetings of an educational nature, this conference dealt with the present crisis in educational finance.

The COUNTY The COLLEGE And CANYON
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

FRED E. WORTHAM, Secretary

The proposal of certain committees of the Legislature to reduce the West Texas State Teachers College, along with some other colleges to the basis of a junior college is indeed an insult to Education in Texas.

In addition to such an insult it places this community in a position where it must fight for its life blood. The proper route for such a fight is through your Chamber of Commerce. An organized fight must be made against the growing sentiment to reduce governmental expenses by cutting off the educational institutions.

Such a proposal as announced in the papers last week will be carried through unless a fight is instigated and carried through to the end. It means much work and quick organization for a strong fight. Little time can be lost in combating this absurd recommendation. Your Chamber of Commerce is already in line for this work, needing only the essential financial backing necessary to conduct the fight. It will take cash to combat the demons of destruction, regardless of the course to be pursued. The Chamber of Commerce is the one organization already ready to oppose any destructive force to the community.

Education is the one big thing lacking in our state and nation at this critical hour. Mass terrorism and pandemonium is bred among the uneducated and unthinking people, and such a lack of proper education and properly prepared leaders has brought us to the present condition of governmental affairs. To take from the people an opportunity to secure an education is to rob them of their rights. It is only a step backward into darkness and failure, as civilized people.

It is wise to spend more tax money in maintaining a penal system and in dealing with criminals, than is spent in offering an education to the youth of our state in order that they may become good citizens?

It must be granted that governmental expenses must come down, but why should the very vital factors to a successful government be crippled for all time to come, while needless bureaus are maintained; unnecessary and useless services offered, and high salaries and expenses continue at the State House in Austin? There is neither conservative nor constructive recommendations in the educational proposals of the Legislative committee. Too many have been the times in the past when Texans have hung their heads in shame because of the educational ranking of the Lone Star State.

Lend your help to the Chamber of Commerce, financially and morally, doing it with a co-operative spirit and every effort humanly possible will be carried out to maintain our college as it is.

We must answer the challenge with a fight!

Beware of professional beggars and grafters.

Investigate before you contribute. If someone comes to you begging for something, see that they are worthy of it before you dish out to them.

The report is circulating in the city that several days ago a lady made a canvass of a number of houses asking for assistance in order to help a girl continue in college. When investigated it was revealed that this lady had made the canvass without the knowledge or consent of the girl in college and that the girl did not and was not asking for assistance of any character.

Beware of panhandlers and grafters.

When you hear the story that the organized agencies for relief, such as the Red Cross headquarters for clothing and the Chamber of Commerce Work Relief Committee for food, have refused aid, you may rest assured that they have either failed to call or that they do not deserve your help. Every worthy case so far reported has been cared for.

With the adoption of the order, "No Work, No Eats," some few have objected to the regulations of the Work Relief Committee, preferring to panhandle for a living under some sham or excuse.

It will pay you to "Investigate Before You Invest!"

You'll find as a rule that the man who consults his wife before telling anyone what he is going to do always has the fewest explanations to make.

Our idea of an optimist is the man who still refers to his auto as a "pleasure car" even when he's changing tires.

The man who tries to keep his business in his head expects too much of his head.

Don't Rely on Santa for Holiday Dress

VERY NICE FOR THE FESTIVE SEASON IS A VELVET GOWN IN RED OR BLUE, WITH EFFECTIVE SLEEVES

BY HARRIET

THE best way to make sure that you have a new dress for Christmas year is to get it yourself. Santa Claus shows such signs of being busy elsewhere!

It is impossible to enjoy all the holiday activities to the hilt unless you are dressed right. One new dress will do wonders to set you up.

Of course it is a party dress that you want and need. Perhaps not a formal affair but one good-looking, elegant little number that would be just the thing for any kind of a party after six.

Velvet is the first choice right now for elegance. Shiny surfaces are in again and satins vie with velvet. Brocades are the last word in sophisticated dressiness. And those roughish, pebbly crepes that are dull and elegant are the choice of many prominent women.

When it comes to color, you can suit yourself. Black is always good, though not so gay as red, for instance. All kinds of red are good, from the softest, lightest flame to deep burgundy and ruby. Blues are fine right now, particularly sapphire blue and light, soft tones that have a lot of gray in them. Gray itself is good, but don't pick it unless you are dead sure it will become you. It is a trying color and not gay, though elegant.

Watch your sleeves! There are so many tricks of style up the fashionable lady's sleeves this winter that you have to be adept to have something new. But fancy sleeves abound and since they are a pleasure to wear, why not have a dress with some unusual ones?

FOR those pleasurable after-six parties, there is an admirable festive dress of rich blue velvet, called Marion Velours. It is a Jeanne Lanvin dress, made with the most flattering lines. The skirt is slinky and not too long. The blouse is soft and cut to blouse the least little bit, at the same time fitting snugly up to meet those big, shirred sleeves that are the triumph of this particular design.

There is something infinitely young and charmingly demure in this dress. Perhaps it is those lady-sleeves that are so full, and shirred to point down to the elbow. Perhaps it is in the corded little cuff which gathers all that fullness in again at the wristline. Perhaps it is in the cute little round collar.

Excellent for holiday parties is the dress of rich blue velvet shown at left. The shirring on the full sleeves, the corded cuffs and belt and a rounding collar that turns back, makes the gown distinctive. The turban is in matching color and fabric. Pink faille, which fashions the unusual sleeves and outlines the décolletage of the gown at right stands out in pleasing contrast to the black velvet of the dress.

lar that turns back, with just a touch of palest flesh velours over the top of it. Then there is a corded belt and buttons up the back.

The little hat matches the gown both in color and in fabric. And it has little cording across the front with rosettes of the fabric on both sides. There is just a front veil, a decorative little one.

For evening parties where you dance, there is a beautiful Lelong evening gown of black velvet with pink faille to lighten it.

The sleeves are very expressive, made of huge ruffs of the pink faille, organ-pleated onto the lowered shoulder line with your shoulders peeping out between the sleeves and the shoulder straps.

The square-necked décolletage is also outlined in pink, and it extends around the top of the black velvet under the arms. The velvet itself is cut on the new princess line with a flounce just above the knee that flares out in the back to give the impression of the old-fashioned basqued gown. There is a second circular flounce added at mid-calf to give the bottom real flare.

BUFFALOES PREPARE FOR HARD SEASON

Coach Burton Seeking All Games To Test Mettle

Already pointing to the national basketball tournament in Kansas City, the West Texas State Teachers College Buffalo cagers are progressing rapidly in their early season conditioning.

Coach "Sad Sam" Burton believes all he needs to turn out a championship team is lots of hard games for the boys during the early season. The Terrible Swedes, scheduled to play at Canyon on December 21 and 22, will offer plenty of opposition for a starter. They have won 110 of their last 118 games and are touted as being even more powerful this season.

"We want them all like that," declared Burton. "We are going to point to the national tournament from now on and the more tough games we have the better off we will be."

"Slim" Comer, who was an all-conference forward as a sophomore but slipped to the second team as a junior, seems to be hitting a better stride than ever before.

Colvin, who placed on the T. I. A. A. first team as a forward last year seems improved with a year's seasoning.

Giant Joe Fortenberry, captain of the 1933 edition, is working in earnest in attempt to show that his selection as an all-conference player last year was not a mistake.

Burk, two years a forward, but shifted to guard last season, is again flashing his new position.

To replace Clark, the other regular starter who graduated last spring, Coach Burton has Guy Richards, who has lettered at guard two years; Russell Stroud, a guard and center letterman; big John Walker, up from the freshman ranks; "Cow" Williams, the big fullback on the grid team, and Alvin Morgan, another freshman of last year.

Several forwards are pushing the starters to hold their positions. They are Monroe, George Graham, transfer from Oklahoma Baptist at Shawnee; Fitzgerald, last year's reserve; Carroll Boyd, a sophomore, and Milton Morris, who is becoming one of the best men on the squad.

COW WILLIAMS CONFERENCE SCORING ACE

TALLIES 42 POINTS

In some degree compensation for loss of the T. I. A. A. championship, the Buffaloes have the high scorer in the conference for the year, which marks curtains and demise for the grand old league.

"Cow" Williams is the holder of conference honors both as all-T. I. A. A. fullback and as high-scoring man for the year 1932. He led in touchdowns chalked up.

Scoring seven times for a total of forty two points, Williams was trailed by Cox of A. & I. with six touchdowns and thirty-six points.

Zeke Brotherton, Buffalo half-back ace, was third high-pointer in the conference with five touchdowns and thirty points. None of the three leaders scored a point after touchdown. Jack Spence, another of Burton's proteges, got in the ranks of the ten high men with three tallies and eighteen points.

The leaders:

	Tdn	Patd	Tot.
Williams, W. T.	7	0	42
Cox, A. & I.	6	0	36

Eagles Football Summary Shows Outstanding Work

One of the most successful grid seasons in the history of the Canyon Eagles closed Thanksgiving Day when they were defeated by the steam-rolling McLean Tigers, who next Friday will battle Olney high school for the regional championship, the state's highest Class B grid laurels.

The Eagles reached its highest degree of supremacy near the middle of the season when they beat the powerful Happy Jacks 21 to 14, only to come back the next Friday and defeat their ancient rival, Hereford, 13 to 7.

In the first game of the season the Eagles defeated Vega 24 to 0, on the local gridiron. This game produced a man that will probably be the best backfield man in all Canyon's history. He is none other than Sewell Cox. Sewell is only a freshman, but he has the size, speed and power to make anyone sit up and take notice when he takes the pigskin for a dash around end or a "ram" through the line.

The second game of the season was played on the local gridiron Oct. 7, with the Silverton Owls. The Eagles again were victorious by the count of 6 to 0.

On October 14, the Eagles trekked over to Borger to engage with the Class A Bulldogs, under the lights, in a game that turned out to be a scoreless tie. The game was probably the Eagles' hardest game of the season.

Just a week after this wonderful specimen of football tactics at Borger, the Eagles were held by the Claude eleven and were only able to cross the Mustangs goal line one time. This game goes to show what a team that is overconfident will do, or will not do.

Downhearted by their bare defeat of Claude, the Eagles worked for the climaxing game of the season, with the Happy Jacks. Happy reigned as the heavy favorite, due to their 26 to 0 defeat of Claude, but nevertheless, the Eagles were out for a victory. The last two years the two clubs had fought to a scoreless tie. Before the biggest crowd of the season the Eagles defeated the Jacks 21 to 14.

Next in line was the Eagles' ancient rival, Hereford. Last year the Hereford eleven defeated the Eagles on the Whiteface Field, for the sectional championship. Due to the fact that a conference game with Hereford was not scheduled,

'33 Seniors To Receive Rings By Christmas

Many of the Seniors are seen walking in and out of Mr. Caruth's office every day. Well, they are ordering their Senior rings.

Another order will be taken for those who did not order this semester. The rings will be exactly like they were last year. They are expected to be here by Christmas.

Rev. Foote Speaks In Assembly

To the great pleasure of the student body, Rev. C. W. Foote, the new pastor of the Methodist church, spoke at the chapel period, Nov. 30.

He stated to the students that, "the words that you utter will form your reputation."

Rev. Foote gave two readings which were immensely enjoyed by the students.

The students appreciated Rev. Foote's program very much.

The two teams had to meet twice. On the local gridiron the Eagles eked out a 13 to 7 victory.

Armistice Day the Eagles entertained the Farwell Steers in a charity game which ended in a 27 to 7 victory for the local gridsters.

The next Friday, the Eagles journeyed to Hereford to play the sectional championship game. On the first play after the kick-off, Thomas, burly Eagle quarterback, took the pigskin on his 24 yard line, broke through the Hereford forward wall and raced 76 yards for a touchdown. Trailing by 7 points, the Whiteface eleven were trying every method known to score. In a supposed-to-be pass from Jack Russell to Wilson, Elliston, Eagles left end, took the ball on his own 40 and raced sixty yards at a break-neck speed to score the Eagles last points. The remainder of the game was played on comparatively even terms.

Now the crucial game of the season: The championship game of District Two, with McLean. A crippled team to play a strong game. Thomas, Wilson and Johnson, Eagles' star backfield aces, were discharged from the squad for breaking training rules, just before the game. These men could not be replaced and as a result the Eagles lost all hopes for a district championship. The downhearted, loyal Eagles tasted defeat that evening at the rate of 52 to 0.

Hence you see how the Eagles have pulled through one of the stiffest schedules in their history to establish a magnificent record for themselves, scoring 110 points to their opponents' 60.

Faculty Met Tuesday For Monthly Study

"Remedial Measures" was the subject discussed by the teachers of the public school Tuesday night at their regular monthly study club.

Important topics discussed were first, "Why pupils fail," second, "What measures can be taken to prevent these failures?"

Much attention is given to the teachers to this part of school week.

Organizations

Press Club

The Press Club met Thursday. Louise Wester called the meeting to order and gave most of the assignments for the week. She then told of the Interscholastic Press Club League which is an organization of all High School Press clubs. The Canyon Hi Press Club hopes to join.

Twamania Club

How to make Christmas gifts, was the subject of the Twamania Club's program. Christine Shackelford demonstrated how to paint chinaberries, while Miss Murrell explained the technique of weed painting. An exhibit of novel Christmas gifts were displayed.

Verline Furlow, Laura P. Brian and Gertrude Meador discussed the making of various Christmas gifts.

The Twamania club plans to sing Christmas Carols and spend a basket to the community chest.

At the advanced Spanish Club's meeting, the secretary called the roll and gave the reading of the minutes of the last meeting in Spanish.

Spanish Club

It was decided that the first year Spanish club would meet with the Advanced Spanish club once a month.

Lucille Cox told two Spanish anecdotes, and games were played the rest of the period.

The Spanish club was very glad to have Laura Ferne Brian as a visitor and the club hopes that she will become a regular member of the club.

ONE DETAIL IN MANY

Somewhere in an American forest a giant Douglas fir tree sways, topples and falls. It is followed by hundreds of others. To the ordinary observer all the trees look alike—all are tall, straight and seemingly perfect.

But certain experts who have spent their lives in their work, will find in the lumber from those trees only a small percentage that is sturdy, straight and flawless enough for their purpose—the making of ladders for fire trucks. The least flaw—a burl in the fibre, a slight knot, a twist in the grain—causes instant rejection.

The selected lumber is taken to the factory—is placed where all sides will dry evenly—is turned on a regular schedule—is housed in a building designed to permit controlled fresh air circulation at all times—and, several years after the great tree fell, the wood is ready to be used.

This is but a detail in the manufacture of standard fire-fighting apparatus, but it's emblematic of every process, every duty, the creation of every part. The goal is service, dependability, efficiency—the closest approach to perfection that can be attained. That's why standard fire trucks and their equipment keep going under conditions that cause assembled or substandard apparatus to fail. A first-class fire department, with the best of apparatus and a scientifically trained personnel, is most vital to every community.

Taking time by the forelock is good advice, but you don't get tripped on if you take it by the tail.

The horse and buggy just naturally had to pass out. It was slow—seldom ever ran over anybody or into anything.

The fellow who thinks living is expensive should reflect that it is worth all it costs.

The girl who is too good to do housework must have a poor opinion of her mother.

"George in a Jam" To Be Presented Dec. Sixteenth

Coming! "George in a Jam." is coming! This play is to be presented Friday night, Dec. 16 at 8 o'clock by the pep squad, assisted by a number of high school boys.

The characters of the play are as follows:

Jim Gray, a youthful guardian, Ogden Stroud; Missy Brown, his mutinous ward, Maxine Middleton; George Forbes, another word of lies, Marvin Calliham; Odessa, the colored cook, Zudie Mae Bible; Jack Carson, George's bosom friend, Robert Black; Nellie Morrow, a school teacher, Dora Mae Plaster; Zora Jane Larkins, a rustic heiress, Mary Beth Campbell; Ma Larkins, her mother, Eulalia Moore; Pop Larkins, Sara's father, Hampton Lisle; Zeke Stebbins, a rural "detective," Tyson Cox.

Can you imagine Robert Black in a dress and Ogden Stroud growing a beard?

The Sophomores were given a tacky party in the high school gymnasium Dec. 2. The party was under the supervision of Mr. Fox, sponsor of the class. Jack Oldham and Dorothy Wright supervised the entertainment.

Each person passed before the judges to show his costume. Chris Wooten was the tackiest boy and Mary May Harrison the tackiest girl. Various games of cards were played, also pig blind man's bluff, cross questions and crooked answers. Refreshments of frozen custards and cookies were served.

"The American people are so dumb that they would not follow a real leader. Even a goat has sense enough for that. We want leaders without brains. They hated Wilson because he had a head."—Wm. Guthrie.

Debate Teams To Meet At Lubbock Soon

The debaters of Canyon High School will debate four Lubbock teams in Lubbock, December 20. By this trip they will return the visit made by Lubbock debaters in Canyon, November 23.

The question which will be discussed is: Resolved, that at least one-half of all state and local revenues in Texas should be derived from sources other than taxes on tangible property. This is the question to be discussed in the Interscholastic League Meets in 33 states, including Texas.

There will be three members on each team in the Lubbock conflict. The affirmative teams will consist of Matalie Parkes, Lura Ferne Brian, Kathryn Robinson, Robert Black, Joe Collins, and R. L. Burnam. Robbie Foster, Bobby Joe Cheyne, Maxine Middleton, Marion Calliham and Ogden Stroud will debate the negative.

Basketball Girls Open Season Fri. With Happy Game

The Eagle girls of Canyon High will go to Happy Friday night, Nov. 9th, to play their first basketball game of the season. Although Happy does not have Lonas Fortenberry and Cally Allen back, they have one of the strongest teams in the district, having already played and won two games. Miss Smith and the girls have worked hard during the training period and expect to deal Boone McClure and his girls plenty of misery.

Everyone who is interested in seeing the girls win should go to Happy and give them all the support possible.

Who wouldn't like to see the girls start the season right by defeating Happy?

Boys Begin Basketball Practice

After a week's rest from the grid season, the Eagles have started basketball practice.

Assistant coach Cleve Jones has charge of basketball during the absence of Coach Barksdale, who is confined to his bed. Coach Jones is one of the best basketball coaches in the Panhandle. He is an Ex-Buffalo Star, and an Ex-College coach. Coach S. D. Burton, head of the department of athletics at W. T. and famous basketball tutor said: "Cleve Jones is one of the best basketball players I have ever produced and an even better coach."

Some forty boys reported Monday for the first day's practice. Regulars from last year's squad are Tyson Cox and Austin Cone. These two boys probably will have little trouble holding down the guard positions. Potential candidates for the forward positions are F. A. Thomas, Curtis Ellison and Pat McCormick, while Joe Collins, "Scoop" Elliston and Ogden Stroud are center candidates. Candidates for guards are George Brasuel and "Spec" Williams.

"Little Red" Harris and Ellen Dickinson were the guests of Miss Laverne Smith at Amarillo over the week end.

WHAT IS A FRIEND?

What is a friend? The definition of a friend is that it is one attached to another by affection.

The Bible tells us to "Love thy neighbor as thyself." Have any of you thought of just how much you love yourself or just who your neighbor is?

Do you love yourself? You know you do. You buy yourself new things, take yourself places you want to go, do things you want to do, don't you? Do you do that for the other fellows? Very few of us do, though it is well within our power. We could buy presents for others, take them places they want to go and do things which they want to do.

Who is your neighbor? As practically all things begin at home, we may start here and see just who our neighbors are. Spreading out we find that we have more neighbors than just the people who live in our immediate vicinity. We have neighboring cities, then counties, then states and so on to neighboring nations. Realizing this we can readily see that God meant for this to be a neighboring world.

The thing above all in friendship is being a companion. You say, "How can I be a companion to all these neighbors? Maybe you can't, but you can at least be friends with all of them with whom you come in contact. That is more than the majority of you do. This brings me to a very important question of our school associates.

How many of you know the names of all the students in your school? Not many. How can you be a friend to anyone whose name you do not know. That's pretty hard to do, so let's get better acquainted with our neighbors in school and then we will be better prepared to become acquainted with our neighbors—The Trojan.

Myrtis Wright and Marvin Calliham spent Sunday in Conway.

Could Your Car Pass a "Cold Test" like this?

Illustrations Drawn From Actual Photographs

Through deep snow drifts that blanketed Wolf Creek Pass, 10,800 feet above sea level in Colorado's Rockies, a great V-type snow plow doggedly pushed its way. A whirling rotary plow spouted clouds of snow, clearing the roadway. And soon, despite temperatures daily below zero, workers of Liberty Truck & Parts Co., of Denver, had opened the 15-mile road.

"We used Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and Conoco Gasoline exclusively in our Cletrac Tractors with wonderful results," wrote a Liberty official. "We had no difficulty starting our motors in the mornings."

There's a "cold test" to guide you in buying motor oil!

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is thoroughly dewaxed and circulates freely below zero. It makes Winter-starting easier. More important still, it saves your motor from terrific punishment during the starting period, when half of all motor wear occurs! Other oils drain away overnight. A "Hidden Quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Oil stays up in your motor and lubricates before your motor starts.

Only Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil can offer you this vital protection, for it is the only oil that penetrates and combines with metal surfaces. Let it protect your motor this Winter. . . .

W. R. Franklin and family, Roy Tucker and wife visited the Tucker family in Canyon Sunday. They attended Dr. Stewart's funeral service. Mrs. Fannie Franklin also enjoyed visiting with Mrs. Sallie Williams and son Will, old friends of years ago.

Light northers one after another. Weather is quite pleasant. Wheat is needing rain.

W. M. U. ladies met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Edith Harral. At the close of last meeting Rev. Lindley was invited to W. I. Lane's store, where Mr. Lane and sons took his measure for a new suit of clothes, gift of the Wayside community. He was quite appreciative, offering his thanks Sunday morning during the services.

Wayside School Notes

The Spanish club met Nov. 30th. A name was decided on by the Spanish members, "Los Espanolitos." (Little Spaniards). The rule committee put the rules into effect. First: They are, every meeting should have some entertainment. Second, Speak in Spanish as much as possible. Third, To practice the courtesy of Spaniards. Next meeting each member is supposed to bring one good rule to add to these.

Wayside Honor Roll for November: Jessie Chloe Payne, Billie Harral, Elvena Whitten, Bill Heisler, Clifford Stevens, Thelma Lee Stevens, Evelyn Culwell, Katherine Patterson.

Kansas City Paper Talks About Cattle and Buff Basketball

The following is from the Kansas City Drovers Telegram:

Canyon. A town in the northern strip that connects Texas with Oklahoma. Situated in semi-range county. Population 2,800.

If geographies, almanacs and atlases, were the only sources of information, not much more could be said about this little Texas town, as there is little if any of the three to distinguish it from any other similar center.

There are, however, several things which make this little community more prominent than hundreds of sister towns about the nation of about the same size. First of all Canyon produces big men. Second it is the source of some of the best stock cattle that ever come to Kansas City.

Yesterday the combination was in evidence on the Kansas City market. J. W. Green, a genial six-footer, who is a ranchman near Canyon, had in a string of choice Hereford stock steer and heifer calves of his own raising consigned to the Burlington Livestock Commission Co. The steers which weighed around 475 lbs. brought $6.25, which was the extreme top for the day. His heifers brought $4.50.

For a good many years these "Big men from the South" have been sending their choice stock to the Kansas City market and they are almost certain toppers because of their consistently high quality.

"I keep a fair sized herd of graded Hereford cows and always use purebred Hereford bulls in producing my calves," Mr. Green pointed out. "I find that year in and year out, it pays to produce good stock and I try to keep the standard of my herd high."

Mr. Green was elated over the price his calves brought in relation to the market brought for fat cattle. "It reflects a confidence for fat cattle markets in the future," he continued. "While most of the men who are in the market for cattle such as mine will not sell them this year but will probably hold them until next fall, it is evident that things are looking a little better. I don't look for any sharp upturn but even a slight advance over the low point now will make their deals profitable."

Canyon has come into prominence as a producer of big men, mainly because the basketball team of giants which represented the West Texas State Teachers College of that town last winter in the annual A. A. U. basketball tournament here in Convention Hall. A mere six-foot man on the team was nothing but a pigmy and several of the towering pillars were close to six and a half feet off the ground. This team sprang the surprise of the tourney when they eliminated the highly favored Kansas City Athletic club in the first round.

Wins 11 Prizes at the Hereford Poultry Show

Mrs. Oscar Hunt exhibited her Buff Orpingtons at the Hereford Poultry show, winning eleven prizes against 90 competitors in this class. Mrs. Hunt pronounced this one of the best shows that she has ever attended.

Mrs. Hunt brought to the News office this morning a dozen eggs, which weighed 31 ounces. They were of uniform size and color.

Faculty Members To Pampa In Interest of Classes

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Barnett, Prof. and Mrs. C. H. Thurman, and Mrs. T. V. Reeves of the College were in Pampa Tuesday afternoon in the interest of the College Extension Courses.

Dr. Barnett conducted his regular class in Education. Mrs. Reeves attended to the organization of an extension class in Contemporary American Literature for next quarter and Prof. Thurman, who will teach the class, was given an opportunity to meet and speak to his prospective students.

Dr. Barnett has conducted this term one of the most successful extension classes in the history of the college, and his students are unanimous in their praise of the work done.

Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Thurman visited with friends while there.

Shirley and Burton Leave for T.I.A.A. Meeting on Friday

The annual meeting of the T. I. A. A. will be held in Dallas Friday night. President D. A. Shirley and Coach S. D. Burton will leave this evening to attend the meeting.

While the conference will cease to function, it is possible that the name will be carried for another year in order to allow the college members an opportunity to seek membership in other associations.

Coach Burton will complete the schedule for basketball at this meeting and will schedule football games for next season.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA TO BE GIVEN DECEMBER 18

"Joy To The World, The Lord Has Come." This is the theme of the Christmas Cantata to be presented by the Choir of the First Baptist Church Sunday evening, December 18th, at 8:00 o'clock. The Sacred Cantata, "King All-Glorious," by Roy E. Nolte promises to be one of the best renditions of the choir of some fifty voices that has never been rendered.

Those taking special parts are, Miss Florine Bowman, Miss Fern Landers, Miss Era Belle Watkins, Mrs. C. O. Huber, Mrs. Ed Phillips, Miss Helen Heath, Miss Cleo Heath, Miss Densel Terry and W. W. Ernest. With these special numbers there are men's choruses and ladies choruses which with the other full choruses make up a great commemorative program, portraying Christ's birth. C. O. Huber will conduct the program and Miss Lilla Beth Burroughs will accompany at the organ and also render other special organ numbers as offertory, prelude and postlude.

The program is for all music lovers and church people and an invitation is extended to the community at large, and you may worship with us in this Yuletide service.

College Professor Leads in Campaign Against Public Enemy—Noise

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—A murderer is being tracked down in a university laboratory here—a killer who, though invisible, repeatedly crosses the path of every person on earth.

The welfare of millions of people depend upon the results of this chase which, although conducted in a scientific laboratory, is as dramatic as a far-fung man-hunt.

Schopenhauer, in a moment of torture long ago, branded as criminal the object of the search when he said: "Noise is the true murderer of thought." And now scientists are trying to make the reverse of this quotation true by bringing about the elimination of noise through experiments and research.

Prof. Vern O. Knudsen of the University of California is one of those leading in the fight against noise. He is aided by assistants and university students in his campaign to abate city noises, keep homes quiet and perfect architectural acoustics.

"Noise is more than an annoyance," says Professor Knudsen. "It brings about nervous disorders and cases of impaired hearing. And it is responsible for serious economic waste, too." The professor knows whereof he speaks. Several experiments which he made recently, in which noise was abated in business offices about Los Angeles, proved that a marked increase in efficiency invariably accompanies a lessening of noise and confusion.

To decrease city noises, Professor Knudsen suggests laws regulating the loudness of automobile horns, propeller and exhaust noises in aircraft, riveting and other noises in the construction of steel frame buildings, etc. Likewise, he suggests that building codes be amended to require adequate insulation against inside and outside noises.

The use of hard plaster or other highly reflective materials for inside walls and ceilings of homes, the professor explains, often results in noisy rooms. If sufficient carpeting and drape hangings adorn rooms, he contends, it is usually unnecessary to make the walls and ceilings additionally absorptive.

One suggestion the expert offers for quiet in the home is the use of absorptive material in the ceiling, such as a one-half inch fibre board. Another is the use of tall and dense planting about the house to reduce traffic and other outside noises. That both methods are practicable has been proven by Professor Knudsen's experiments.

It is the general opinion among builders and the public alike that the acoustics of an auditorium is non-predictable and largely a matter of luck. Professor Knudsen has proven otherwise. "Acoustics is rapidly becoming an exact science, and the architect who will design his auditorium in accordance with what is known about the behavior of sound will find that the outcome in acoustics will be satisfactory," he says.

Excessive reverberation, or sound echoing, is the worst enemy of good acoustics. The time of reverberation for an auditorium is the time required for a sound of normal pitch and loudness to die away to inaudibility. Experiments conducted by the professor in one Los Angeles auditorium, built years ago, showed that the room had a time of reverberation of 13 seconds. In another auditorium, designed by an acoustical expert and built recently, the reverberation time was only one-half second.

Most offices are places where a man tries to make a living after being nice to those who don't.

In these days of equality, a man has a perfect right to sue his wife on grounds of non-support.

In more ways than one, some people never get on their feet until they get rid of their automobile.

Every woman knows that any woman could dress on what her husband spends for cigarettes.
